

Broadway Artists Alliance Presents
The College Audition Workshop
A Two-Day Intensive in New York City

Choose the right material. Perfect your performance. Get accepted to your top choice colleges!

Colleges want to build a long-lasting relationship with talented performers, and this relationship begins with your audition. How do you make yourself stand out? How do you make the most of every moment you have in front of the college panel? How do you get into top colleges and conservatories that will springboard your professional career?

The BAA College Audition Preparation Workshop will help you to choose your material early, and focus on what songs and monologues are best to showcase you and all that you have to offer.

PART ONE – August 14th & 15th, 2011 – Workshop Your Material

- Work with top New York City professionals to select and rehearse the perfect audition material for your talents, your personality, and your top choice colleges
- Learn how to master a group dance call
- Gain insider information about dozens of BA, BFA and conservatory programs across the country

PART TWO – September, October, November 2011 –The Creative Process Continues

- Receive three phone or e-mail sessions with a Workshop faculty member who will continue to advise you on your material, answer your college audition questions, and help you stay on track

PART THREE – December 2011 – Optional Private Coachings (Additional Charge)

- Receive two private coachings in New York City or three private coachings via Skype with members of the Workshop faculty
- Ask any final questions that you may have about the audition day, the admissions process, filing your applications, and more
- Your final coaching will be a mock audition for your top school from start to finish

Work with Top NYC Instructors:

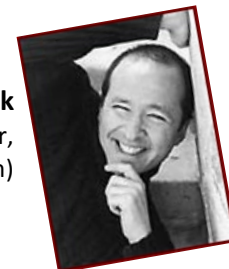

Holly-Anne Ruggiero
(Assistant Director of Broadway's Jersey Boys, top NYC Director and Coach)

Jennifer Johns
(Program Director of Broadway Artists Alliance)

Tyrick Wiltez Jones
(Broadway's Hairspray, Finian's Rainbow, etc.)

Steven Lutvak
(top NYC music director, writer and vocal coach)

For more information about the BAA College Audition Preparation Workshop and to learn about our incredible Workshop faculty members, please visit www.broadwayartistsalliance.org